Recommendation included amending Article V & X to add a reimbursement policy. Cole recommended that another Ad Hoc committee be formed next year as the topic needs more time for discussion.
- iii. Mark thanked the committee for their hard work and strongly recommended that the committee should evaluate two points from the report and strongly recommended that the Board consider the impacts of these recommendations.
 - A. Recognize that this program does not attract students from historically underserved communities for the position in Student Government.

- xv. Ms. Morales changed her motion to limiting speech to three minutes.
- xvi. Motion passed by majority roll call vote.
- xvii. Members continued debate stating that the contents of the document are rooted in legal advice and was not written with malicious intent. As a non-profit organization, we are held to different set of standards by the State of California, federal government, and the university. The censure is the most appropriate way to preserve the legitimacy of ASI’s ability to self-govern.
- xviii. It was stated that the censure does not address the root cause which is the scholarship policy. Discussion about scholarships took place throughout the year amongst the leadership team and full time staff, and the effort to create change did not take place, and the actions of the chair took the opportunity for discussion away from board members.
- xix. Motion #11 (Regli/Nevarez) “Move previous question.”
- xx. Vote requires 2/3 vote and with 19 in the affirmative, motion passed by majority roll call vote.

- v. Motion #13 (Sandoval/Noyes) “Move to open first reading of Bill #20-01: Compensation for Service.”
- vi. Mr. Sandoval stated that the purpose of the bill is an amendment to the ASI Bylaws of existing ASI Conflict of Interest Policy to reflect that board members may not offer, give, or receive gifts, bonuses, or other additional compensations for services performed.
- vii. Mr. Kragh stated that the amendment is too broad by not providing a definition of “gift.”

Chief of Staff – Shayna Lynch

This week our social media will be posting an infographic about how to be sustainable while in quarantine. This effort led by our Secretary of Sustainability is super helpful to remind us all that we need to continue to practice sustainability despite the shelter in place. In addition, sustainability roundtables are still occurring and they are doing so on a weekly basis.

The Executive Cabinet is working on their position evaluations for this year so they each can document what was successful in their role and what can be improved in the future. This is very important for Student Government with our student turn-over rates so that we can set up next year's Cabinet up for success.

The first Alumni Council meeting was held last Saturday. It was very exciting to see this Council finally happen with all the years in the making. At this meeting we discussed the outline of how the Alumni Council will move through our tasks and worked on gaining feedback from both the Alumni and the students about what they want out of this council. A survey will be going out shortly to both students and alumni to garner more feedback of how the Council can be as effective as possible. We will be having Council meetings more frequently than the Council would normally call for in an effort to gain a good start on the tasks before the next school year begins.

A huge item that occurred this past week was the changes to the Title IX regulations. The U.S. Secretary of Education released changes to the federal Title IX process which is the university's system of addressing Student Conduct issues and the predominant way instances of sexual violence are handled on campus. The changes come at a stressful time in managing the issues with COVID-19, and in many regards, the changes disproportionately affect survivors. The press release from the U.S. Department of Education can be found here, and a student-generated website on the changes can be found here. Here is a very brief overview of some key provisions that you should be aware of:

- Violence that occurs in off-campus housing or at study abroad programs will not be considered the schools' responsibility. This allows schools to ignore violence happening off-campus, even if the survivor must see the perpetrator at school every day.
- Cases under Title IX will require cross-examination. This means that a survivor can be directly questioned by a representative for the perpetrator.
- Schools will have the flexibility to choose which evidentiary standard to use: "preponderance of evidence" or "clear and convincing evidence".
- Perpetrators will be given written assurance that they are presumed innocent. Schools may not impose any disciplinary actions on students accused of misconduct until the end of the case, though they are able to remove students from campus if it is believed that the student poses a risk.
- The 60 day timeline for Title IX cases will be lifted, allowing schools to lawfully extend investigations, drawing them out for months or years.
- Schools may use unregulated and informal resolution processes, such as mediation, instead of investigating.
- There is a heightened standard of harassment meaning that schools are no longer obligated to investigate cases that don't meet the new requirements.

The CSU is currently evaluating the Rules and the expected effects on our internal complaint resolution processes. The Rules require implementation by August 14, 2020; however, it is possible the Rules will be challenged in court, which could delay implementation. The California State Student Association issued a resolution opposing the proposed Title IX policy changes before they were finalized. They called upon the chancellor's office to file a lawsuit against the new Title IX policy and push for student consultation to be implemented in the steps leading to the future system of the Title IX policy. We will continue to work in conjunction with university-wide efforts to support survivors. We must believe survivors. There will be messaging coming from ASI regarding these changes. Please contact me if you have any questions about the new regulations.

Thank you and that concludes my report.

Chair of UUAB – Elizabeth Roseman

Hi everyone! I hope you are all doing well and staying safe. I wanted to let you know that we will be having a Student Government End of the Year Celebration on Thursday, June 4th from 6-8pm. You should have all gotten Outlook calendar invites for this event, so please accept the event if you are able to go. This will be a time when the Leadership Team has the opportunity to thank you and ASI full-time staff for all of your hard work. Can't wait to see you there

Executive Director Report – Marcy Maloney

Here is my report for the meeting. I will have a more extensive report for the meeting at the end of May to report on what reopening may look like for ASI and facilities.

1) ASI Events held its first virtual Trivia Night on Tuesday, May 5. 5 teams signed up, 3 participated, with a 10 space availability of 10 teams. In total 14 students participated. Event assessment showed a majority of participants had previously attended an in-person trivia night hosted by ASI Events. The next virtual trivia night will take place on May 19.

2) Over the course of late fall and winter quarter, the ASI Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Working Group completed a comprehensive Inclusion Excellence Assessment of the organization. With the results of the assessment, that group identified key priorities and initiatives as it relates to policies and procedures, recruitment and retention of staff, long-term financial support, and training and development. With that work completed, ASI was identified by the Office of University Diversity and Inclusion as a unit within the university to complete an Inclusive Excellent Action Plan. On April 29, Michelle Crawford - Director of the University Union presented the first draft of this plan. The final draft is expected to be completed by June 2020 and will be presented to the 2020-2021 ASI Board of Directors in the fall.

External Affairs – Kylie Clark

Again, not too many new things to report for External Affairs, but here are a few things we will be working on after our meeting on May 13 at 12 pm.

- We will be creating two graphics to disperse on (1) how to stay civically engaged from home and (2) resources for students during covid-19.
- We are hoping to plan Virtual Meet Your Representatives to give students an opportunity to interact with legislators during this crucial time.
- Census education is still happening, with a focus on social media promotion.
- Last, another reminder to please attend City Council meetings virtually by livestreaming them using this link if possible! It would be great to see the awesome student presence we've had throughout the year continues despite the crisis.

ASI/UU Internal Review Committee – Joe Sandoval

The ASI/UU Internal Review Conference Committee has met several times since our last meeting. The committee has reviewed and issued recommendations on multiple documents for the consideration of the ASI Board of Directors:

- ASI Children's Center Policy
 - On April 27, 2020, the committee thoroughly vetted and discussed this proposal's research, intent, implications, and structure. After asking clarifying questions, the committee agreed that the proposal was board ready and provided minimal threat or risk to the organization. The document received a unanimous "Do-Pass" recommendation.
- VEBA Trust Policy
 - On April 27, 2020, the committee received and reviewed the "ASI Volunteer Employee Beneficiary Association Trust Policy." After careful review and deliberation, the committee recommends a unanimous "Do-Pass" on this document.
- Internal Review Investigatory Documents
 - Background:
 - In February 2020, the ASI Executive Director learned of possible unauthorized compensation given by the Chair of the ASI Board of Directors to the chairs of ASI Standing Committees not currently receiving scholarships. Following this discovery, the ASI/UU Internal Review Committee consulted with full-time staff on investigatory proceedings, including the gathering of depositions, consultation with student affairs personnel, and consultation with legal counsel. Concluding its deliberations, a public report was released during the ASI Board of Directors meeting on April 15, 2020 including several recommendations for the Board's consideration.

- Resolution #20-XX: Resolution of Censure of the Board Chair
 - In a special meeting on April 30, 2020, Pursuant to the stated recommendations, the ASI/UU Internal Review Committee received and reviewed "Resolution of Censure of the Board Chair." After careful review and deliberation, the committee recommends a unanimous "Do-Pass" on this document.
- Bill #20-01: ASI Bylaws Amendment – Compensation for Service
 - On May 4, 2020, Pursuant to the stated recommendations, the ASI/UU Internal Review Committee received and reviewed the Bill "ASI Bylaws Amendment – Compensation for Service." After careful review and deliberation, the committee recommends a unanimous "Do-Pass" on this document.
- As these documents pertain to investigatory material, we wish to remind Board members that hearing these documents is urgent to the maintenance of due process for those involved and corporate integrity for the organization.
- Resolution #20-XX: Resolution to Support Students Living Off-Campus During COVID-19 Pandemic
 - On May 7, 2020, the committee received and reviewed the attached document entitled "Resolution to Support Students Living Off-Campus During COVID-19 Pandemic."
 - During its' deliberation, the committee understood and appreciated the importance of the issue to the large number of students in the San Luis Obispo area living off-campus under private lease/rental agreements. Also appreciated was the attention drawn by the document to the imminent financial impact brought by the COVID-19 pandemic upon Americans generally and especially Cal Poly students.
 - Additionally, during the committee's deliberations members expressed concern over community relations, primarily those of local governments and area landlord's willingness to work with students. Concerns expressed primarily focused on outcomes from the document's recommended actions to the San Luis Obispo regional economy and the financial status of landlords immediately impacted.
 - After conclusion of its deliberations, the committee voted 3-2 to recommend a "Do-Not Pass" of this document to the ASI Board of Directors.

That concludes my report for this week. Some of these documents may imply strong opinions or feelings to be expressed. As they pertain to the documents themselves, please hold comment on them for their official presentation in the Board room. I am otherwise happy to accept questions. Thanks!

Recruitment & Elections Committee – Conner O’Neil

ASI Election Code

- The Recruitment and Elections Committee is discussing the recommended amendments that have been put forth by the Ad Hoc Committee. Our work includes reviewing the feasibility of the proposed amendments, enhancing clarity for candidate understanding, and working with professional staff to create a timeline for implementation of these changes. While accepting the recommendations as they came originally was appealing, the changes are so profound that they ASI Elections require new systems of management and procedures to be developed. It is the intention of the committee to create a revised recommendation of ASI Election Code amendments, and a timeline of implementation for the 2020-21 ASI Recruitment and Elections Committee. It will be important for the returning members of Student Government to ensure that the progress being made on this issue does not grow stagnant as the new members step into their positions. The conversation on if the system we currently have is accessible has already been had, and we already know the answer.
